Medical professionals have always understood the significance of maintaining a healthy heart. However, it is only in the last few years that we have discovered the heartbeat itself is less important than the heart's relaxed state in-between beats. The Heart Quest - Heart Rate Variability Monitoring device is the perfect time-effective diagnostic tool to monitor and analyse your heart's beating patterns; it only takes 300 heartbeats.

ACCURATE, EFFICIENT & SIMPLE TO USE

Heart Quest is, quite simply, the best heart diagnosis machine available on the market. For our many years in the industry, Medica Health has strived to promote only the best and most useful tools to help therapeutic practitioners properly treat their clients.

The Heart Quest – Heart Rate Variability device is a widely recognised and accepted medical tool that will produce a range of accurate readings and measurements in as little as five minutes, including electrocardiogram results, metabolism, brainwave patterns, breathing patterns, neuro-hormonal regulations, psychological and emotional condition, meridian energies and so much more.

The most user-friendly diagnostic tool available today, your staff can be trained with the device in almost no time at all. Following an initial consultation with each new client, your assisting staff will then be able to take over subsequent appointments, giving you the time to impact and benefit dozens more people, and get them the therapeutic care they need.

A RANGE OF THERAPEUTIC APPLICATIONS

Working in harmony with Medica Health's therapeutic treatments, Heart Quest is a time-effective diagnostic device that allows for more accurate targeting and results. It is truly the best tool for the job, able to quickly gauge heart relaxation levels and offer in-depth medical data to better assist Theragem practitioners and heighten the efficiency and efficacy of their therapies.
