For years, people have been looking for a way to bring Pulsed Electromagnetic Field Therapy into the home. However, lack of space, time and resources always meant that this was impossible for most. But now thanks to Medica Health International and SunriseSunset, anyone can take advantage of PEMF technology without even leaving the house.

EMF THERAPY FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

The SunriseSunset therapeutic system uses digital processing and coil technology to produce a magnetic field, effectively delivering a range of pulsed frequencies directly into the body at a cellular level, boosting vitality and circulation.

With the SunriseSunset, you can get all the benefits of PEMF therapy while you sleep. Improve your blood circulation, speed up the repair of bones and tissue, reduce inflammation, enhance the nervous system and enjoy deep, relaxed sleep.

The discreet therapy blanket is easy to use and fits discreetly under your bed sheet. Simply plug the device into the accompanying digital control unit and set your chosen therapy programme. It's that simple.

A RELAXING THERAPY THAT WORKS AROUND YOU

The SunriseSunset is designed to work around your busy lifestyle, not the other way round. Rather than having to visit a specialist centre or set up a complex PEMF machine every time you need treatment, simply get into bed and press a single button on the digital control unit, immediately activating a 12-minute session of relaxing electromagnetic therapy.
